Outlook

The Alberta Occupational Demand and Supply Outlook (2006-2016), forecasts a supply shortage of Automotive service technicians starting in 2009 through to 2016. Upholsterers, tailors, shoe repairers, jewellers and related occupations are expected to experience a supply shortage beginning in 2010.

A high population growth and an aging workforce are fuelling the growth of this industry. As the population of communities rise in conjunction with a dwindling supply of individuals in this industry, an increased demand for personal services is forecast. Amid longer working hours and increasing household incomes, there are more and more people contracting out household chores such as cleaning, landscaping and snow removal.

Alberta's strong economy and higher household income support the increasing demand for personal services. Rising labour shortages are impacting the manner in which businesses within the industry, can or cannot provide services. With no one to fill job openings, Alberta businesses are strained for resources, forcing many to provide reduced services. Another obstacle for businesses in the Other Services industry is the increasing cost of real estate and rent. With leases set to expire for some businesses, and with inner-city properties becoming more lucrative investments, many businesses may not be able to sustain the increase in costs and tenants may be forced to relocate.
